

Quality Commitment

of the Girsberger Company

To our customers and business partners we give the following pledge of performance:

Passion for perfection – attention to detail.

Girsberger's creative and technical mastery goes hand in hand with the latest production methods. We work with creativity, passion, and diligence – from the original design to the development of high-quality materials, to installation. Our careful attention to minute detail and an overarching quest for the highest quality delivers an uncommon excellence. Take a close look.

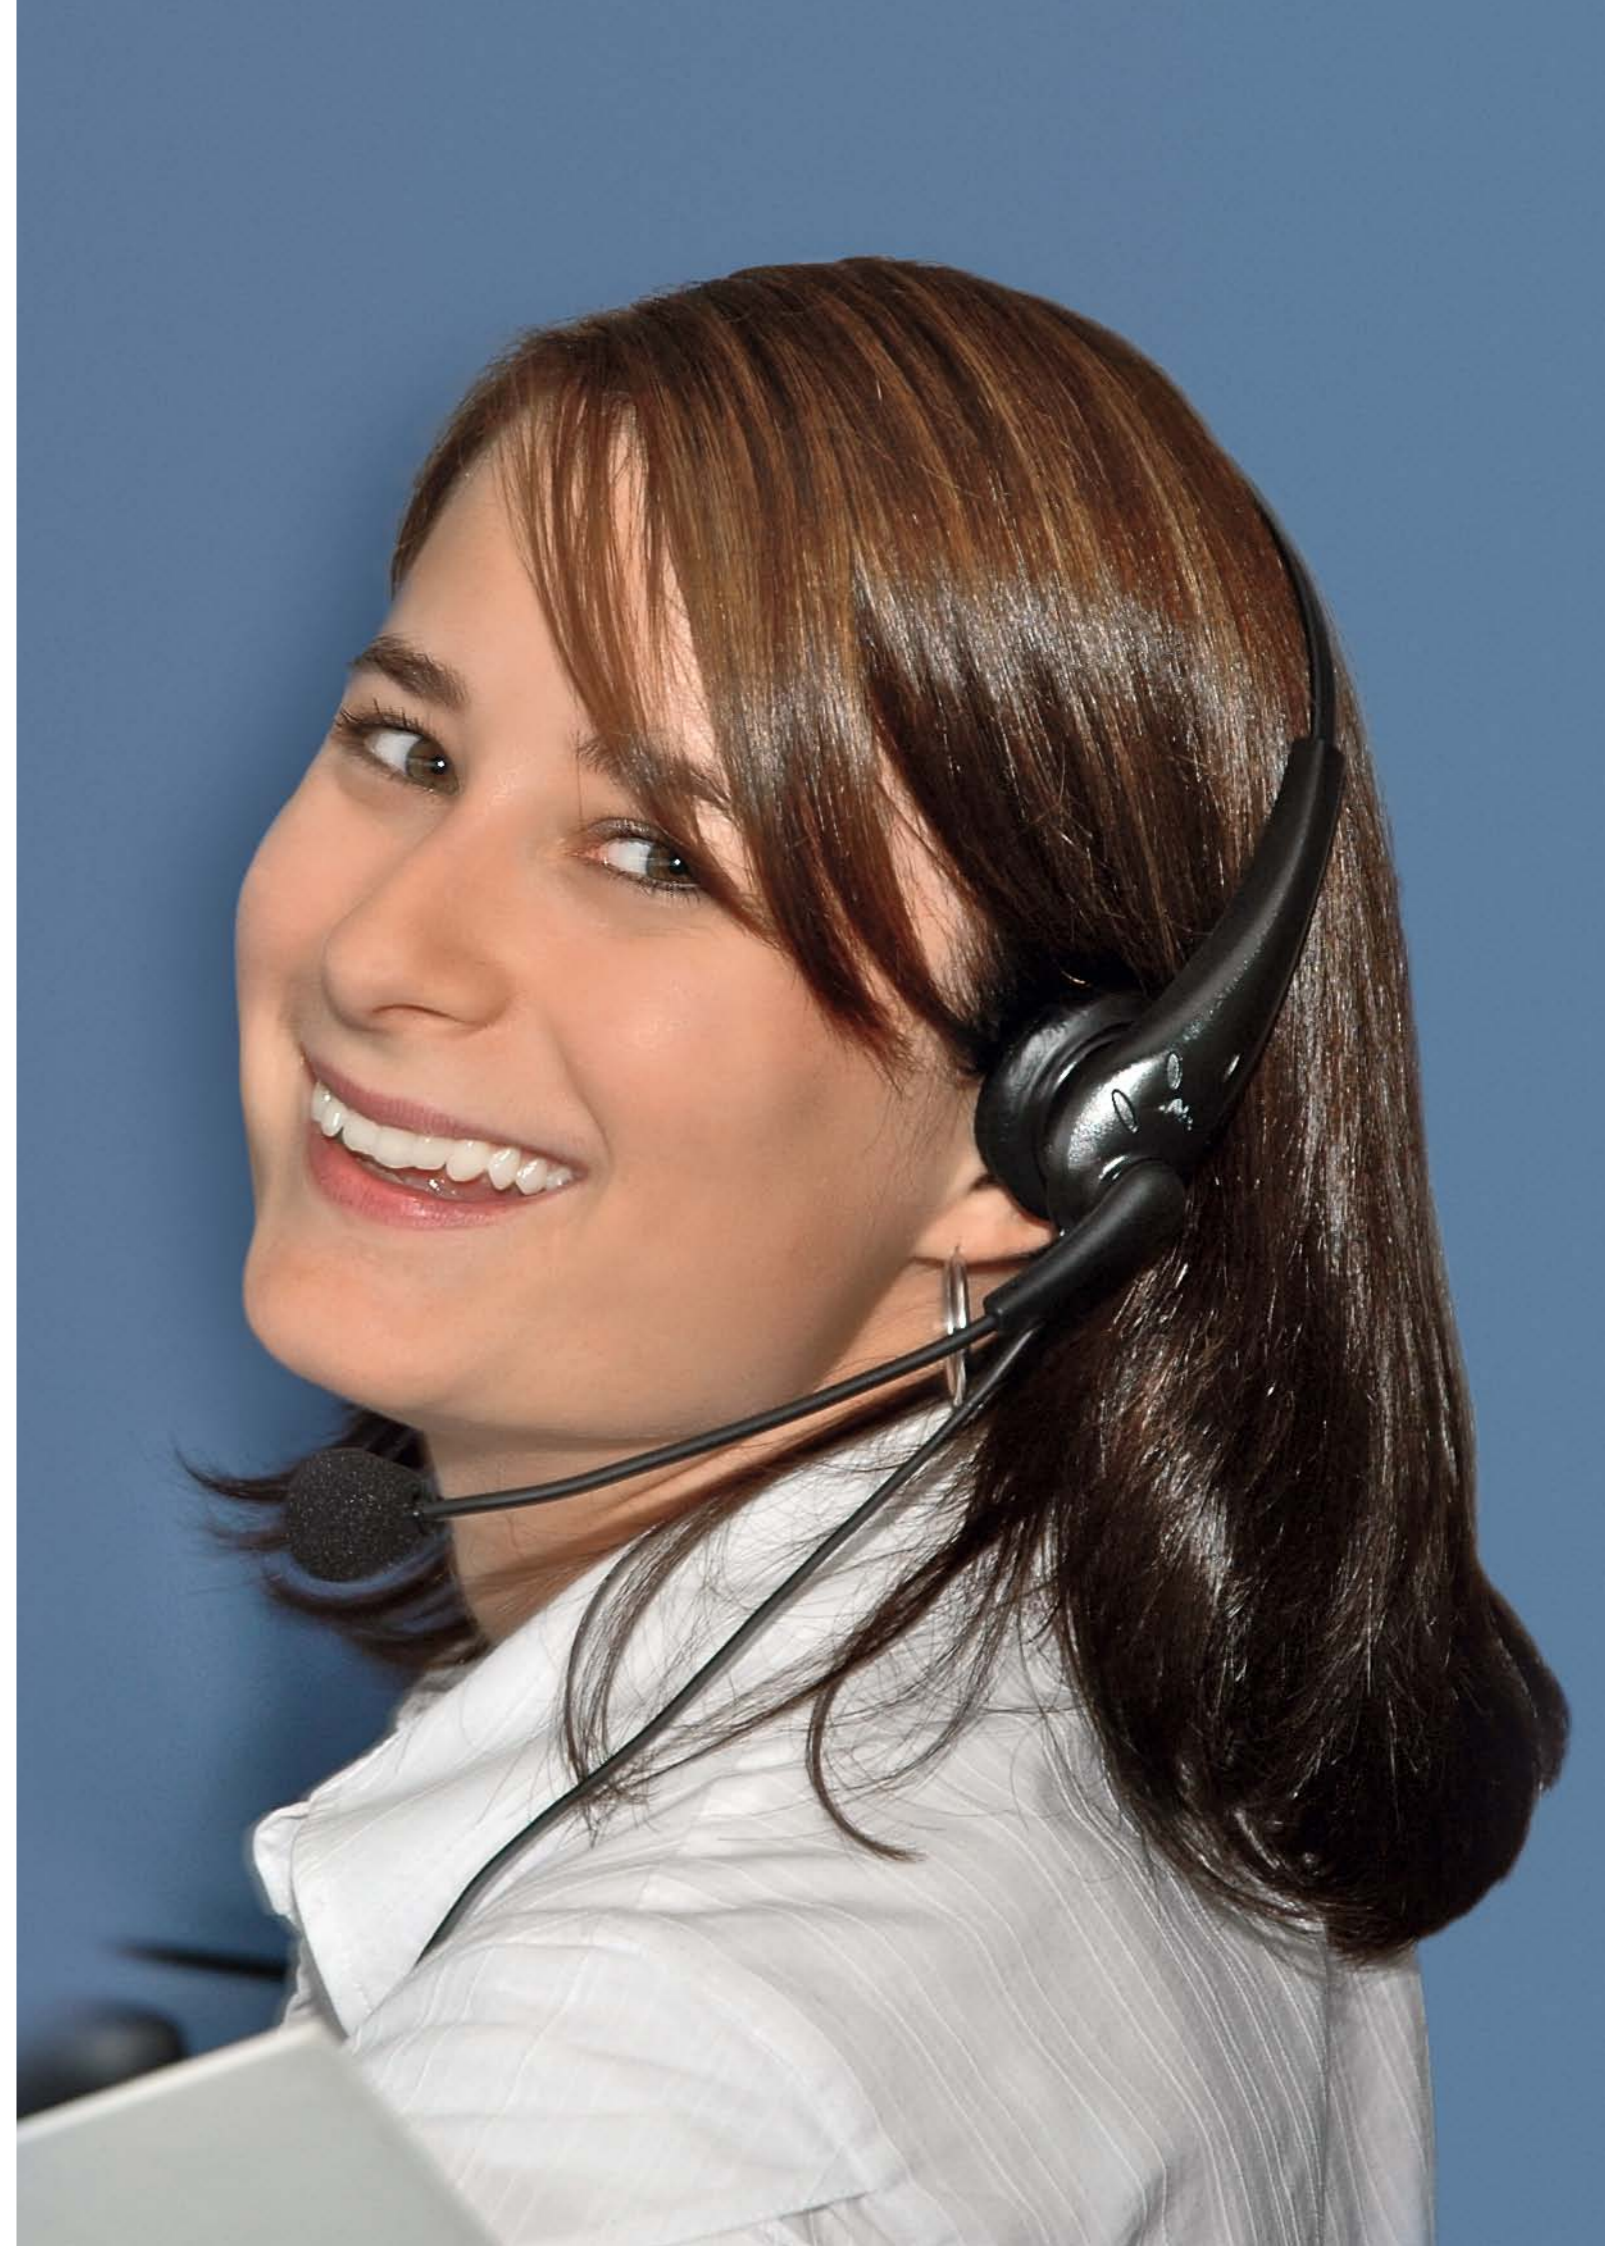

The Girsberger team's dedication to quality enables us to honour this pledge. That is why all our employees accept and follow the requirements of the Girsberger Quality Commitment.

Thierry Aubert, Designer

The most important objective of our work:
No dissatisfied customer!

Danielle Quaile, Manager Sales Administration HOME

My personal attitude:

I help where I can, as well as I can!

My personal commitment:

I know who is directly dependent on my work performance. These are my customers.

I see to it that my customers are always satisfied. I attend to all visitors, and all others who are in contact with our company, in a quick, reliable, and friendly way at all times.

I comply with legal regulations and internal instructions.

Dieter Gantert, Production Manager HOME

I see to it that my work place is safe, tidy, and clean. I do not waste water, energy, or production materials, and I make sure that waste is disposed of in an environment-friendly way. I handle production equipment and work tools with care.

In dealing with others, I am honest, fair, and helpful at all times, irrespective of their sex, origin, culture, or religion. If I see somebody subjected to gross negligence, carelessness, or injustice, I do not look the other way. I immediately react or inform a superior.
